

Make sure you have followed step 1, 2 and 3 on the previous page.

Step 4. When automatic tuning has finished, you may see a region preference screen, like the one shown. This shows the regions that are available to you. The region with the strongest signal will be number 1. Press the red button to select and exit the screen.

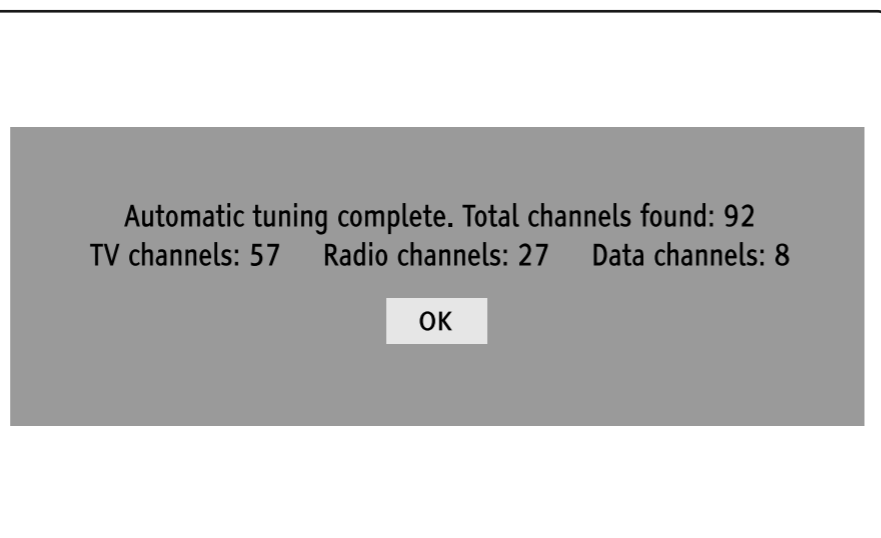

Note: If you do not see this list it means that your digital box has chosen the only signal available to you. Go to step 6.

Step 5. If 'Press OK' appears next to the region you have chosen, further region options are available. Press the  button to get a list of those options. If 'Press OK' does not appear, then there are no other options available.

Step 6. A screen like this will appear. Press the  button to start watching digital TV.

Tuning your TVonics set-top box

There are two stages to the digital switchover. Your letter will tell you when these two stages take place.

If you are using your digital equipment for the first time please go to Stage 1 in this guide.

At Stage 1 of the digital switchover you will need to follow these step-by-step instructions to continue watching all TV channels.

If you are currently using your digital equipment to watch TV please go to Stage 2 in this step-by-step guide to manually retune your equipment on the dates shown in your letter.

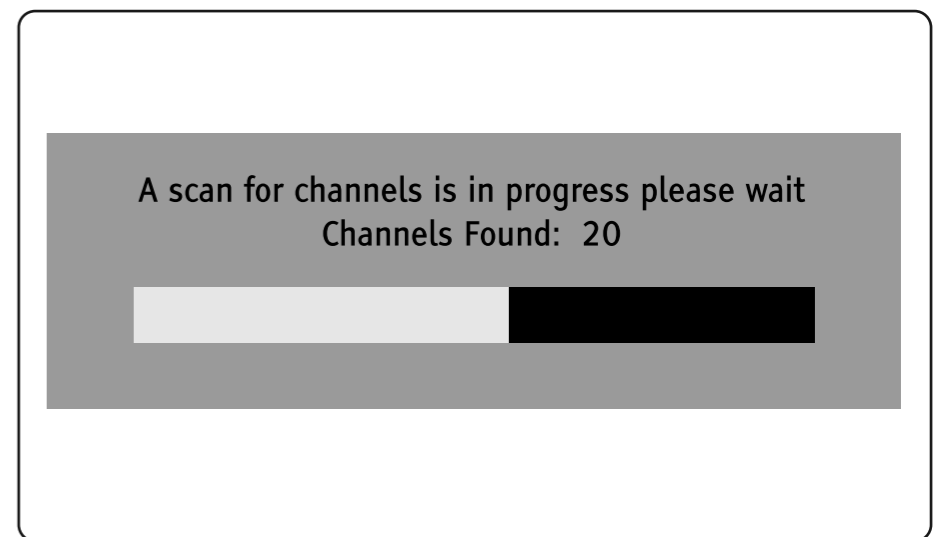

Stage 1 of the digital switchover

Stage 1 is when BBC Two becomes digital, all other channels remain the same.

You will need to tune your digital box to receive BBC Two after the digital TV switchover. Simply follow these step-by-step instructions.

Step 1. Point the digital remote towards your new digital box and press the  button. Press the 'OK' button to start tuning.

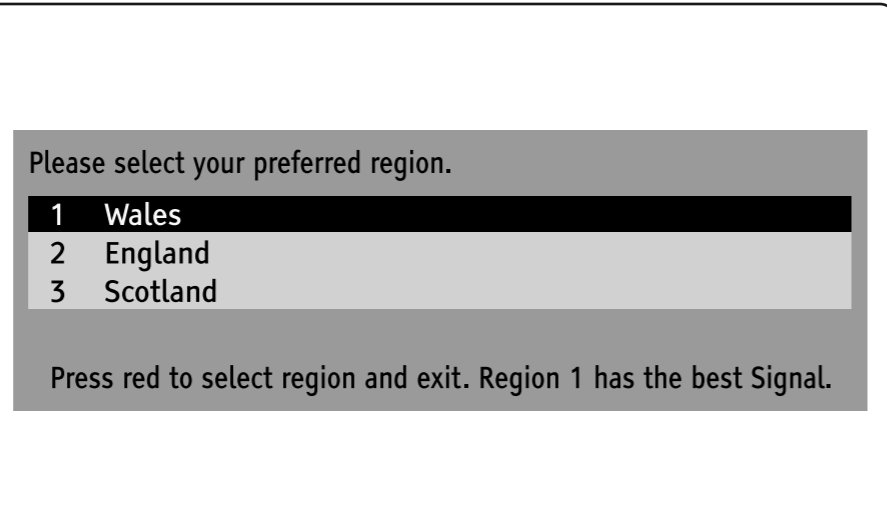

A screen like this will appear on your TV as your digital box tunes itself. This may take a few minutes.

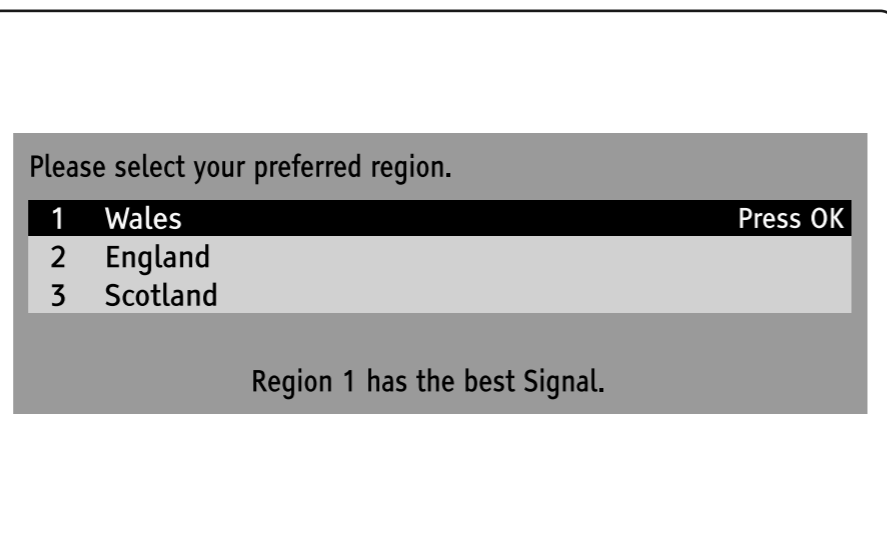

Make sure you have followed step 1 on the previous page.

Step 2. When automatic tuning has finished, you may see a region preference screen, like the one shown. This shows the regions that are available to you. The region with the strongest signal will be number 1. Press the red button to select and exit the screen.

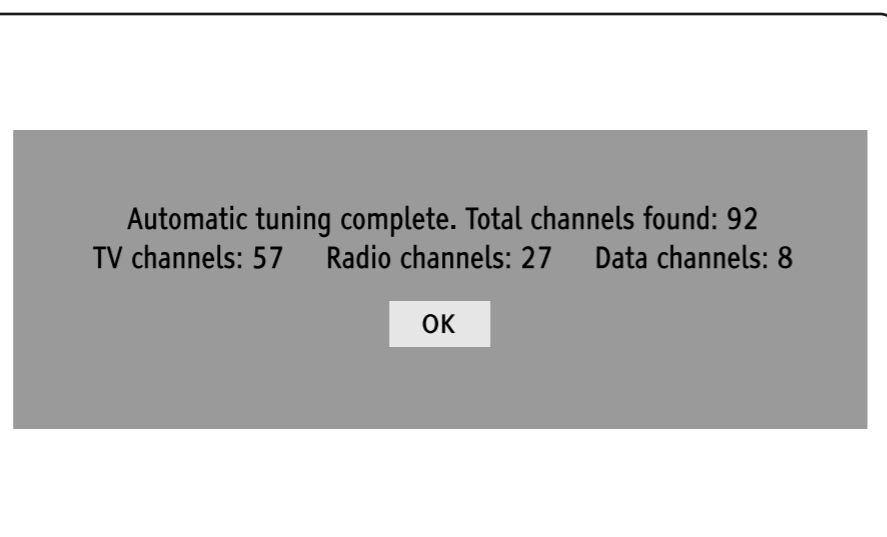

Note: If you do not see this list it means that your digital box has chosen the only signal available to you. Go to step 4.

Step 3. If 'Press OK' appears next to the region you have chosen, further region options are available. Press the OK button to get a list of those options. If 'Press OK' does not appear, then there are no other options available.

Step 4. A screen like this will appear. Press the OK button to start watching digital TV.

Stage 2 of the digital switchover

Stage 2 is when all channels switch to digital.

You will need to retune BBC One, ITV1, Channel 4 and Channel 5 at stage 2 of the digital switchover. Simply follow these step-by-step instructions.

Step 1. Point the digital remote towards your new digital box and press the  button.

Select 'Tuning' by using the ▲ and ▼ arrows on your digital remote. You can also press the number next to 'Tuning'.

Press the  button.

Step 2. A screen like this will appear on your TV with 'Automatic Search' already highlighted. Press the  button. Select 'Yes' by pressing the  button to begin the retune.

Step 3. A screen like this will appear on your TV as your digital box tunes itself. This may take a few minutes.

